[LOS ANGELES]
Occupy Los Angeles
News is reprinting
portions of OLA News
Issue 28 -11.16 which has an interview with NBCUniversal reporter
Patrick Healy. In it he confirmed the press
must get
"authorization" from
the LAPD to cover
news in Los Angeles.

In light of today's report in the Los Angeles Times
amplifying Mr. Healy's
account to OLA News
we thought it relevant
to bring our readers
up to date.

NYC Journalist: 'if I lose my NYPD
press pass I lose
my job.'

There are some
within the "free" press who are chosen by the LAPD and Mayor Villaraigosa to show or not show the world the treatment Occupy LA protestors may be subjected to during likely arrests which could come tonight. Be aware of this fact.

Why does the press allow this? How will OLA's free media be treated in a raid?

On 11.15 Mr Healy confirmed to Occupy Los Angeles News that the mainstream media and press of Los Angeles must get "passes to go into certain places."

Who determines who
has access to news
and media within LA?
The Los Angeles
County Sheriff
Department and LAPD
according to Mr. Healy.

OLA News asked Mr.
Healy's opinion of the
the NYC journalist's
statement that we show to the left. The
long time reporter said
he would be "surprised
if that happened."

When does one go to the LAPD to ask for permission to be
press?

Patrick Healy ended
our interview by saying
he doesn't "go per se,
the company
[NBCUniversal] goes
and get [permission]
for us from the LAPD."

"Police announced
they would be
allowing only a small
group of print,
television and radio
journalists past
police lines when the
eviction is finally
carried out. "
